Who, Me?

W. A. NORFOLK
London, Ont.

FOREWORD

The salon committee would like to take this opportunity of thanking all those who helped make the First Saskatoon Canadian Salon of Photography such a success: the jury, the contributors, and all who gave them help in so many ways.

Six days before the date set for judging we received a telegram from Dick Bird that he would be unable to come for the judging. Mr. Bird is in the Rockies making another of his justly famous bird movies, and due to bad weather earlier in the season was unable to interrupt his shooting schedule. Our special thanks are due to Ken W. F. Cooper who took his place on such short notice. Mr. Cooper has been a very active camera club worker throughout the country and will be well known to most of our contributors.

A total of 286 prints were submitted and gave our jury a hard job to pick the best. Many very fine prints had to be passed over in favor of others the jury felt were slightly better. We are looking forward to receiving many more fine prints from all of our friends throughout Canada next year.

THE SALON COMMITTEE.

KODABROMIDE PAPER

Gives all three

FOR EXHIBITION or other use, you want each print to reproduce what you have put into the negative. You want brilliant, rich blacks; plenty of delicate middle tones; luminous, well-detailed highlights—Kodabromide Paper gives you all three. It's the ideal general-purpose photographic paper. And it's available at your dealer's.
